

David Fountain

David's calm and organised disposition lends itself well to the demands of his role as Project Manager. With a background in high-end residential, as well as commercial construction, he is well versed in scoping works, contracts administration, budget management and managing teams.

With an emphasis on processes, time management and efficiency, David delivers on a high quality output.

His ability to work with subcontractors, consultants and clients in a reasonable and caring, yet to the point manner provides clear communication throughout the course of any project.
