

Justin Boyd

With an already well-balanced skill set, Justin possesses the endearing quality of someone who is always willing to learn. Having previously held both on-site and off-site roles, Justin has a perspective of the construction process from estimating through to project completion.

Throughout his 15 years in the industry there has been a proactive focus on improving, implementing and ensuring safety measures. Secondary only to safety, Justin sees a large part of his role on-site is in ensuring clear and effective communication between all parties involved in the build, from tradesmen all the way to the client.
